Cognitive UI/UX designer and looking for a design team home. One that gives me the opportunity to express and combat a good idea. Pen and paper is the premise, my software capabilities are only tools, never obstacles.

As a proven leader and very easy to communicate with, I am not your average designer. Pushing brands as well as people to cultivate the best business they can, all while utilizing the most efficient practices in tech today. Being an avid reader and always reverting to the student attitude is what drives me to make sure my work is relevant. Putting your work in the hands of a professional opinion should be easy, that is why I back all my work with necessity and HCI. I always make sure the business goal is achieved, I'm not here to sell arbitrary pretty pictures.
