A recent graduate hungry for new opportunities. I'm a genuinely passionate designer always looking for ways to improve my creative output. Experienced in designing for both digital platforms as well as print and find them both just as fulfilling with their own sets of challenges. My broad understanding of different roles in a design house, and bachelors degree in digital media combined with a open minded, warm hearted attitude makes me a great team player. Design is more than just a job for me and I want to work with people who are just as passionate about this field as I am.

Picknickfestivalen

Graphic Designer

Thomas did the graphic design and our logo to our festival, The Picnic festival. He also was the head of the magazine we distributed in 100 000 copy's. Thomas is really easy going and flexible. We had to make a lot of short notice-changes and most of the time it wasn't any problems. When it was problems Thomas was really honest to us and told us what was possible and what wasn't. That is much appreciated. I would recommend Thomas to employers with this kind of projects.

Valentin&Byhr Change

Graphic Designer

Thomas Engebrand had his internship with us at Valentin&Byhr Change during the fall/winter of 2011. We gave Thomas a chance because his digital background and portfolio seemed interesting. Thomas proved himself to be a versatile artist with a nice personality and he quickly became one with the team. He was involved with a lot of clients, such as Fazer Konfektyr and Malmö Aviation, both as a talented retouch artist and as a driven creative designer. We appreciated Thomas so much that we decided to take him along on a trip to Hong Kong. We can highly recommend him as a creative designer and a good friend to have around.
